"Mr. Dealey," Who Fished for German So ers, Was the Rapid Fire "Larry"-Only Out of Tombs Since Wednesday, but

Working Old Game—Gave Cops the Slip

Larry Summerfield, "wire-tapper," who never taps any wire, and plain ordibunco man, has probably jumped the $15,000 bail which Martin Engel put up for him after the aggregate of his bonds on various charges which had kept him languishing in the Tombs was cut down from $30,000. Summerfield, at any rate, gave the slip yesterday to a detective who caught him in a new variation on an old bunco

For the last few days a "get-rich-quick" advertisement has been running in the German newspapers of this city. It read

If you want to get rich invest with us and go double your money and triple. Two or three days ago this was brought to the attention of Inspector McClusky, who detailed Detective Sergeant Henry Fernelsen to investigate. The detective answered the advertisement, and as a result had a meeting by appointment with a man who called himself Henry Ferguson. Ferguson apparently sized up the detective as a "sucker." and unfolded a proposition to turn $2,000 into $8,000 within the space of a few weeks. He promised to tell how it could be done at the next meeting. That occurred at half-past 12 yesterday. Ferguson took his "good thing" to 1300

Broadway, room 18, and there introduced him to "Mr. Dealey, superintendent of the racing department of the Western Union." It was a most impressive looking office. There were several telephones on the desks, and telegraph instruments everywhere. The furniture was elaborate and included a lot of racing prints and

By this time something that had been running round in the head of Detective Ferneisen flashed into a recollection. This Ferneisen flashed into a recollection. This was Larry Summerfield.

"Mr. Dealy" shook hands very grandly with the sucker. Then he explained that he had a scheme to do all the poolrooms.

"This is the central office of the Western Union, racing division," said the "manager of the company." "Everything that comes over the wires has to be repeated here. When the racing returns come in, we will hold them for ten minutes while you run over to the poolrooms and get down a sure thing bet on the winner."

the poolrooms and get down a sure thing bet on the winner."

They further explained that all would divide alike in the profits of the scheme, but that he would have to invest $2,000 in the "sinking fund." As an evidence of good faith, they offered to show him how they would "do" a poolroom. A telegraph key began to click.

"Confessor wins the first race. Now go gover to the poolroom and see us do them.

over to the poolroom and see us do them.

And John, remember to wait fifteen minutes before repeating that," said "Mr.

Dealy."

utes before repeating that," said "Mr. Dealy."

Ferguson and his "victim" hurried to a room on West Forty-fifth street. "Mr. Dealy stayed in his office. There were ten men around a table, studying a chart and doping horses in the Forty-fifth street place. It looked like a regular, well appointed poolroom. Ferguson, however, grew suspicious at this point and seemed unwilling to go on with the deal. So Ferneisen gave the alarm, and the whole outfit was pinched. A cop hurried back to nail "Mr. Dealy," but he had vanished. Some kind friend had tipped him off, and he was last seen boarding a Broadway car.

The eleven men caught in the poolroom were charged with disorderly conduct and held. Five of them are in the roques gallery. Their names, as given on the identification slips, are John Thomas, John Muldoon, "Big" Strosneider, William Hennessy and John Callahan. The rest are believed by the police to be men of the kind that hang around the hotels waiting to see what they can pick up. It is supposed that they were hired for a dollar or two apiece to help in the stage setting.

The headquarters of the "racing division" was rented five days ago. The "poolroom" was hired for the day.

SEABROOKE QUIT.

a Talk to the Company.

Thomas Q. Seabrooke, who has been playing Mr. Mellon in "Piff, Paff, Pouff" at the Casino, was absent from the show last night. Fred Mace, his understudy, took his place.

F. W. Whitney, the owner of the show, called the company together for rehearsal vesterday afternoon, but before there was any rehearsing Mr. Whitney made a speech. He had evidently been considering the speech for some time. In a few brief but pointed phrases he told the company that they were not doing as well as they should.

they were not doing as well as they should.

He meant that for the principals, Mr. Whitney explained, as well as for the leaser lights. Thereupon Mr. Seabrooke took the centre of the stage and made a little speech himself.

"You can have my resignation," he said.

"I wasn't specializing," Mr. Whitney replied. "I meant what I said for everybody. But if you care to hand in your resignation, Mr. Seabrooke, I will accept it."

"Tis well," said Mr. Seabrooke, haughtily, "I will do so."

He grabbed a slip of paper, wrote out his resignation, and handed it to Mr. Whitney.

"Thanks," said Mr. Whitney, who went

Thanks," said Mr. Whitney, who went on to add a few words of advice and wisdom to what he already had said to the company.

Mr. Seabrooke's resignation was dated to take effect to-night, but apparently that alipped his mind, for he didn't show up last night. 2 AMPUTATIONS IN THE STREET.

Doctor Had to Cut Off Baby's Foot While Trolley Car Held Her Down.

Within an hour last night Ambulance Surgeon Amenfeld of St. Catherine's Hospital, Williamsburg, found it necessary to make two amputations in the street. Both patients were little children and both had patients were little children and both had been run down by trolley cars. One amputation was performed while a baby was pinned down by the wheels of the vehicle which mangled her.

Bertha Sigmoffe, 2 years old, who lives with her parents at 109 Johnson avenue, was struck by a Hamburg avenue car while she was playing at Johnson avenue and Leonard street. When Dr. Amenfeld arrived the child was held by the wheels in such a manner that to wait until the car could be jacked up would be fatal. The foot by which she was held was so mangled that it could not be saved, so Dr. Amenfeld amputated it, released the baby and took her to the hospital.

pital.
Less than half an hour before that Dr. Amenfeld had been called to attend Isaac Wilinski, 4 yeers old, who was run down by a Bushwick avenue car in front of his home at 365 duchwick avenue. The boy's right leg was so crushed that Dr. Amenfeld laid him on the sidewalk and amputated it. The child was taken to the hospital.

Woman Shot Six Times May Recover.

PRINCETON, N. J., July 22.-Robert Clayton, who yesterday killed his wife and shot his mother-in-law, Mrs. Susan Bush, six times, has been removed to Trenton. Mrs. Bush has a good chance for recovery. All the bullets have been extracted and she is

To Head Off Tunnel Damage Suits. The Rapid Transit Construction Company has appointed a body of experts to examine daily the foundations of buildings along the rou e of the subway extension from the Post Office to Brooklyn. This has been done to head off and gather data for damage

TAGGART ADMITS HE WANTS IT. | WOKE UP IN A NEGRO HOTEL, But Says Parker Can Settle the Chairman

Members of the Democratic national committee began to arrive in the city last night for the meeting to be held at the Hoffman House next Tuesday. Among those who got here were T. V. Holman of Oregon and H. S. Cummings of Connecticut. While he was not willing to commit himself to any positive prediction, Mr. Holman said he thought that Oregon, though McKinley polled about 14,000 votes more than Bryan in 1900, had a good chance of going Democratic this year because of the admira-tion which Judge Parker had aroused in the State by his telegram to St. Louis declaring himself in favor of the gold standard. Thomas Taggart, Democratic national committeeman from Indiana, moved over from Brooklyn to the Hoffman House last night. In the course of the day he had conferences with many prominent Democrats, among them Senator Bailey of Texas, who is said to be armed with four proxies from national committeemen of the Southwest and who favors the selection of Mr. Taggart for the chairmanship of the national committee. Mr. Taggart made no tional committee. Mr. Taggart made no attempt to hide the fact that he would like attempt to hide the fact that he would like to head the committee.

"Should Judge Parker have any preference in the matter of the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee," said he, "I will support the man wanted by him. That is the position I have taken from the first and that is the position I will take next Tuesday. If Judge Parker signifies a wish for any particular man, that man will be elected without opposition from any member of the committee. But if Judge Parker does not express any preference then the does not express any preference then the committee will decide for itself upon a chairman.

"It would be absurd for me to say that I do not know that some of the members of the committee want me to be the chair-man. In Indiana our State convention instructed for Judge Parker, and when he was nominated talk arose as to the chair-manship of the national committee. Some of the members of the committee, when of the members of the committee, when it was newly organized, were good enough to say that they wanted me to be the chairman. I told them that if the rest of the committee wanted me to take the place, and if the selection would be satisfactory to the candidates I would be glad to serve. From one of Mr. Taggert's friends it was learned that he had received information that Mr. Gorman would not consent to accept the chairmanship should it be offered to him. It was added that this communication came direct from Mr. Gorman himself.

CAMPBELL WANTS NO BOSS. Wouldn't Object to Tammany Candidate for Governor if He'll He a Pacifier. State Committeeman Frank Campbell of Bath and John N. Carlisle of Watertown when they got back to town last night from their visit to Esopus joined in saying that the principal aim of the State Democratic leaders ought to be the selection of a State ticket which would be of assistance in carrying New York for Judge Parker.

Mr. Campbell, speaking for himself and his colleague, said that they and their followers would not consent to be dictated to by any one who might seek to act the part of a boss. Mr. Campbell was asked if he referred to David B. Hill, and he replied that he meant to apply the remark to any one who wouldattempt to make capital out of factionalism in the making up of the State ticket or would attempt to control the convention by means of bossism.

"The Democrats in my part of the State, said Mr. Campbell, "will not allow themselves to be used to pull any one's chestnuts out of the fire. They will not ally themselves with any factionalists, they will act independently of any bosses and will advocate the selection of the strongest man that can be found to head the State man that can be found to head the State ticket.

"We are for a strong man, no matter from what part of the State he comes or what section of the party he represents. Harmony is what we want, above all things. We would not object to a Tammany man as candidate for Governor just because he is a Tammany man. In fact, we would be glad to support a Tammany man if he would unite all factions. But what we have decided on is that we will not countenance any attempt on the part of a factional leader any attempt on the part of a factional leader to punish the leader of some other faction in the make-up of the State ticket.

"We favor an open convention and our delegates will not be instructed for any one. We believe that instead of some one one. We believe that instead of some one man choosing the candidates the selection should be left to the State convention. If that policy is followed it is certain that candidates will be determined on who will strengthen the chances of carrying New York State for the candidates on the national ticket. Let the delegates go to the convention uninstructed and let the convention have a free hand and then there is no doubt that a candidate for Governor will be picked out who will be acceptable to all. The Democrats of this State have a great chance to win this year.

"Roosevelt will be beaten by the same conditions which defeated Bryan," said Mr. Carlisle. "Bryan was an honest man, but he was regarded as unsafe. That is the way the country looks upon Roosevelt. He is scknowledged to be an honest man, but he is looked upon as being erratic, and for he is looked upon as being erratic, and for that reason the country is afraid of him."

MOODY TO BE CHAIRMAN.

Will Preside Over Bay State Republica Convention to Be Held Oct. 7.

Boston, July 22.-William H. Moody of Haverhill, Attorney-General in President Roosevelt's Cabinet, will be the permanen chairman of the State convention this fall. This selection for the chief convention place was enthusiastically and unanimously ratifled at the meeting of the Republican State committee held at the headquarters to-day.

The caucuses for the election of delegates The caucuses for the election of delegates to the Congressional, State and other conventions will be held in all cities and towns Sept. 28, except in such places as have adopted the Luce law, where the caucuses will be held Sept. 27. The date for the State convention is fixed for Oct. 7, in Tremont Temple.

Candidate for Senator Hawley's Seat. HARTFORD, Conn., July 22.-Ex-Gov. Morgan G. Bulkeley's candidacy for Gen. Hawley's seat in the Senate was announced

The Weather.

The temperature remained moderate over the Eastern half of the country yesterday, but it was growing warmer in the extreme West and Northwest. There is, however, no indication of another heat wave in this section for several days at other heat wave in this section for several days as least.

Cloudy and showery conditions prevailed over the Lake regions, Middle Atlantic and Now England States, and fair weather elsewhere. There was an area of high pressure moving down from the upper Mississippi Valley. An area of low pressure had developed on the coast of North Carolina, regions on the sat. This may cause some high winds moving northeast. This may cause some high wind on the coast between Hatteras and Boston to-day. In this city the day was cloudy, with a few light showers: winds, fresh northerly; average humidity,

The temperature yesterday, as recorded by the official thermometer, is shown in the annexed table:

table: 1904. 1903. 1904. 1908. WASHINGTON FORECAST FOR TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW For eastern New York, rain to-day and on the coast to-morrow; warmer to-morrow; fresh east winds, diminishing.

For castern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Dela-

For eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Dela-ware, Maryland and the District of Columbia, occasional rain to-day; clearing and warmer to-morrow; light to freah east winds, becoming var-lable.

For Western New York, occasionat shewers and thunderstorms to-day; fair and warmer to-morrow; light variable winds becoming north and fresh.

For New England, rain to-day, except fair in east and north Maine; fair and warmer to-morrow; east and north Maine; fair and warmer to-morrow; fresh east winds, becoming south.

WOMAN TELLS STARTLING TALE TO TENDERLOIN POLICE.

Mrs. Thorpe Drives With Husband to Station House-Says She Cashed Check in 7th Avenue Saloon and Was Hit on Head -Finally, Only Wants Her Dog Found.

A hansom cab stopped in front of the Tenderloin police station just before dusk last evening and an undersized, nervous man alighted and hurried into the building. He left a well dressed, buxom woman in the cab. The man told Sergt. Place that he was Alfred Thorpe of 7 Pacific place and that he had a wallpaper making plant in

"I want to report to you an experience that my wife, a respectable woman, who has never been away from me for a day since we were married, underwent yesterday and to-day. She left home at 1 o'clock to cash a fifty-dollar check I had given her. She went into a saloon at Seventh avenue and Twenty-eighth street, she says, and cashed the check. Just as she left the place she was hit on the back of the head and stunned. She does not remember anything more until she woke up in a negro hotel in West Twenty-eighth street, a short time ago. That hotel is called the Wilson, and when my wife came to a negro woman was bathing her head."

"Truly, that is a really remarkable thing to happen to a respectable woman in broad daylight," said Sergt. Place. "Won't you get your wife to step in and tell me about herself?"

Thorpe went to the station house door and called "Vivian." and called "Vivian."

Mrs. Thorpe got out of the cab and entered the station. She was heavily veiled and told substantially the same story to Sergt. Place that her husband had told. She declared her money was gone when she came to and that her pet poodle dog was also missing. The dog was with her when she entered the saloon.

when she entered the saloon.

"Let me see where you were struck?" asked Sergt. Place.

"Oh, the swelling is all gone now," said Mrs. Thorpe. "Why the colored woman who was bathing my head when I woke up took down the swelling left by the blow I received on the street." About this time a Tenderloin negro, who, the police say, is a dope flend, entered the station. He seemed to know Mrs. Thorpe, and he volunteered the information that he had seen her dog on the street in the vicinities of Seventh avenue and Twenty. he had seen her dog on the street in the vicinity of Seventh avenue and Twentyeighth street yesterday afternoon.
"It is outrageous that anything like this could happen in a big city," chimed in Thorpe.

"It certainly is," said Sergt. Place.
"I'm not fibbing," said Mrs. Thorpe. "If I were, would I come here to make a complaint?"
"Do you want us to investigate your story?" asked the sergeant.

story?" asked the sergeant.
"Will I get back my money?" asked the "The chances are that you will not," answered the sergeant.
"Well, then, get the dog if you can and let the other thing go.
All this while the negro dope flend stood

All this while the negro dope fiend stood by. When Mrs. Thorpe saw that the sergeant was inclined to get her to go into details, she walked over to the negro and removing his hat placed her hand on the back of his head.

"How would you like to be hit there and stunned," asked she of the negro.

"It's a mighty strange thing to me," said Thorpe before leaving the station house. "There I was telephoning and telegraphing all over for my wife and she in a negro joint. If she had not insisted that they call a cab for her she might be there yet."

yet."

The Wilson House has been raided by the police. It is a negro hotel, but white women often go there. It is the home of a Tendericin negro who is called the Black CAPT. SHARP DEAD. He Alded in the Work on Many Wrecks, Including the Maine.

Capt. Frederick Sharp, an old marine wrecker, died late last night in the United States Marine Hospital at Clifton, Staten Island. He was overcome by gases in the hold of the sunken Boston City in the lower bay on Tuesday. One of the men working in the hold was overcome by gas s and Capt. Sharp and his son William went down after him. Both were overcome and the man they went to rescue was brought out dead. Capt. Sharp and his son were brought Capt. Sharp and his son were brought out alive and removed as quickly as possible to the hospital. William Sharp died that night. Capt. Sharp never regained consciousness, but lingered until last night.

During his thirty-eight years of service he worked on many wrecks of importance here and abroad. He aided in floating the New York, Paris, St. Louis, La Champagne and other liners when they ran aground in the bay or outside. In the efforts to raise the battleship Maine and to recover the bodies from her Capt. Sharp was in charge. He is survived by his wife, three daughters

Bath House Mystery Cleared Up. About three miles off Rockaway Beach, in Jamaica Bay, Matthew Landerburger in Jamaica Bay, Matthew Landerburger of East Ninety-fourth street and Avenue L. Canarsie, found the body of a drowned man last evening. On it was a bathing sult and a tag around the neck marked "307 A Balmer." The man's body was removed to the Canarsie police station, where it was later identified as that of Edward Carroll, 21 years old, of 500 Smith street, Brooklyn. Carroll's clothes were found in a bath house at Balmer's bathing pavilion last Sunday. The finding of the body clears up the mystery of his disappearance.

Portland Mine Again in Operation. VICTOR, Col., July 22.-The Portland nine is operating with a new force of engineers and firemen in place of those arrested by the military authorities, who asserted they had discovered a conspiracy among the men in the mechanical department at the mine to walk out in a body. Ten of the forty men arrested have been ordered by the military board to leave the listrict, and the remainder have been re-

Want National Testers of Patent Medicines. OCEAN GROVE, N. J., July 22 .- Patent medicine tippling has grown to be a national nenace, according to the National Temperance Society, which is in session here. Today they decided to send a petition to Congress memorializing that body to appoint a licensed chemist in each State to analyze all proprietary preparations, so that the sale of medicines which contain spirits may be prohibited.

New Savannah Steamer Here.

The new steamer City of Atlanta of the Ocean Steamship Company running to Savannah arrived here yesterday from Chester, Pa., where she was launched on April 30. She went aground in the lower bay but got off in a few minutes. She has a gross tonnage of 5,600; her length is 396 feet and she has a 49 foot beam.

Brooklyn Centenarian Dead.

Mrs. Hannah Brown, who celebrated her 101st birthday on Wednesday last at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. D. Law-rence, 310 Decatur street, Brooklyn, died yesterday morning after an illness of ten

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

By stipulation of counsel the examination of Frank H. Ray in the Sully bankruptcy matter was adjourned yesterday until Aug. 7.

Mayor McClellan sald yesterday that he would send a measage to the Aldermen on Tuesday, asking the board to join him in an application to the State Railroad Commission to abolish the grade crossing in Van Cortlandt Park.

WILSON BARRETT DEAD. English Actor-Manager's Viettin of Car of the Stonach.

Special Cable Despatch to Twa Sur.
LONDON, July 22.—Wilson Barrett, the actor, dramatist, novelist and theatrical manager, died to-day. He underwent an operation for cancer of the stomach yes-

Wilson Barrett made five visits to this country and was almost as well known in New York as in London. Although his name has been chiefly connected with modern British melodrama, he took rank among the three or four best actor-managers in Great Britain. He was an adapter of plays and a novelist.

The son of a gentleman farmer of Easex, where he was born in 1846, he left school and went on the stage at the age of 17. After ten years in provincial road companies on both sides of the Atlantic, he became a manager in 1874, first taking up two theatres at Leeds. In 1786, he took the management of the new Grand Theatre at Leeds, and did the work which prepared him for his later success in London. He began with the Court Theatre, and transferred in 1881 to the Princess. There he put on some of the big modern hits in melodrama and comedy. Among his successes were "Heartease," a modern hits in melodrama and comedy. Among his successes were "Heartease, a revival of "The Old Love and the New,"
"The Lights o' London," and "The Silver King." The two last named are among the most popular melodramas of the last century, and Wilfred Denser in "The Silver King" was Barrett's best known part.

Although a member of all the theatrical clubs in London, Barrett was a tremendous worker with a passion for detail. "Working," was his simple answer when biographers or interviewers asked him to name his recreation.

THE REV. DR. THOMPSON DEAD. Had Been for Years Addicted to the Use of Morphine.

The Rev. Dr. John Rhey Thompson, who recently startled an audience in Carnegie Hall by declaring that he was an unwilling slave to morphine, died in Bethlehem, N. H. on Wednesday last. Dr. Thompson for some years was pastor of the Nostrand Avenue, Brooklyn, Methodist Episcopal Church. His last Brooklyn charge was the Summerfield Methodist Episcopal Church, and at the time of his death he was super-Dr. Thompson was a native of West Vir-

Dr. Thompson was a native of west virginia, about 50 years old and a graduate of the West Virginia University, whose president he subsequently became.

At the Carnegie Hall meeting on March 27 last Dr. Thompson delivered a sensational address in which he told how he had become a victim of the drug habit.

From childhood, he said, he had suffered to the drug habit. From childhood, he said, he had suffered from neuralgia, but had borne the affliction until twenty-two years age. In the later part of 1881 he watched for a day and a half at the bedside of a sick friend. All the while he was suffering from his own trouble. An attending physician who learned of Dr. Thompson's suffering gave him a dose of morphine.

"I found instant relief." said the doctor found instant relief," said the doctor in his Carnegie Hall address, "but, unfor-tunately, I was not warned of the insidious nature and influence of the drug." He said he was never free from neuralgio pain except when asleep or under the in fluence of morphine. After his first ex-perience with the drug he used it frequently to get relief.

YORKVILLE'S CHIEF CLERK DEAD Patrick McDavitt, One of the Croker Old Guard and a Most Obliging Man.

Patrick McDavitt, for many years chief clerk of the Yorkville Municipal Court, died at his home, 450 East Fifty-seventh street, yesterday morning of congestion of the brain. He was a delegate to the Democratic convention at St. Louis, and was taken ill on the return trip.

He was 64 years old and was one of the Croker "Ohd Guard" in Tammany. When Mr. Croker was the leader of the old Eighteenth district. McDavitt was one of Eighteenth district, McDavitt was one of his election district captains. Commissioner Coleman, when head of the Street Cleaning Department in the early '70s, appointed McDavitt superintendent, and in 1878 the late Justice Ambrose Monell of the Yorkville Municipal Court made him an assistant clerk. Justice John B. McKean, now of Special Sessions, who succeeded Monell, made McDavitt chief clerk.

The chief clerk had a knack of making friends. It was often said of him that he friends. It was often said of him that he did not have an enemy in the world. He was a widower and leaves a married daughter. His funeral will be held at the Church of St. John the Evangelist at 10:30 o'clock on Monday morning. Obituary Notes.

A. D. Kruseman Van Elten, the artist, who lived for some time in New York, died in Paris on July 12. He was born in Alkman, who lived for some time in New York, due in Paris on July 12. He was born in Alkman, Holland, in 1829, and early began the study of landscape painting. He was a pupil of Lieste in Haarlem. Later he studied in Germany, Switzerland and the Tyrol, and in Brussels and Amsterdam. From the latter city he came to New York in 1865 and remained here until a short time ago. He was a member of the Rotterdam and Amsterdam academies of the Belgian Water Color Society, an associate of the National Academy of Design and an academician. He was commissioner of fine arts for the Netherlands at the Philadelphia Centennisi in 1876. Some of his best known works are: "Summer Morning, Esopus Creek," painted in 1867, "Clearing Off, Adirondacks," "Sunday Morning in Holland" (1871) and Evening on Long Island Sound" (1876).

George Fordyce Blake, inventor of the Blake team page of the summer hame.

ing in Holland" (1871) and "Evening on Long Island Sound" (1876.)

George Fordyce Blake, inventor of the Blake steam pump, died at his summer home at Phillips Beach, Mass., yesterday morning. He was 85 years old. Mr. Blake learned the carpenter trade when a youth, but soon turned to mechanics and invented a water meter in 1852. In 1861 he invented a clay pulverizer, and it was to clear the clay pits of water that led him to plan the steam pump for which a patent was issued in 1864. Mr. Blake took out numerous patents for improvements to his pump, and in 1874 the George F. Blake Manufacturing Company was formed. In 1890 Mr. Blake sold the business to a syndicate of English capitalists and when they merged it in the International Pump Company nine years later he retired. Mr. Blake was twice married and is survived by four children.

Mr. Blake was twice married and is survived by four children.

Frank Hill Smith, the well known Boston artist and decorator, died on Thursday at the age of 62. He had been an invalid for several years. He was one of the fine arts jurors at the Centennial Exposition and at one time was one of the directors of the School of the Museum of Fine Arts. His early work included portraite. figure pieces and landscapes, and his works are in many American public and private collections. In the latter part of his career Mr. Smith turned his attention chiefly to interior decoration. He decorated the Chamber of Representatives in the new Boston State House and the reading rooms of the Senate and the House. He was one of the founders of the St. Betolph Club, a member of the Union Club and of the Boston Athletic Association. He is survived by six children.

Athletic Association. He is survived by six children.

Mrs. Minnie Wallace Dobson, wife of Charles E. Dobson, died in her summer home in West Keyport, N. J., on Thursday last. Mrs. Dobson was born in New York city and was 43 years old. She was Minnie Wallace, one of the famous Wallace Sisters. Mrs. Dobson was to take a part in a "White Slave" company the coming season. Besides her husband and one son she leaves three sisters.

Isaac J. Tillotson, who died on Tuesday at Lynbrook, L. I., in his fifty-fourth year, had long been active in Republican politics in the Twenty-first Assembly district, Brooklyn. For nearly twenty years he had been assistant engineer and electrician at the Custom House. He leaves a widow.

William Gelbach, father of Dr. R. W. Gelbach, a well known Hoboken physician, died yesterday in his home, at 809 Hudson street, that city, in his seventy-ninth year. He was a member of the Hoboken Academy faculty from 1876 to 1901. He leaves four daughters and three sons.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt Sails on His New Steam Yacht Adreit.

Yacht Adrest.

The Adroit, Alfred G. Vanderbilt's high speed steam yacht, built by the Gas Engine and Power Company, started out yesterday from Morris Heights for Newport. Mr. Vanderbilt and a party of friends were on board. The Adroit is 100 feet over all, 96 feet on the waterline, 12 feet beam and 5 feet draught. She has a double stateroom, bathroom and saloon aft and a dining saloon forward. She is fitted with twin-screw triple expansion engines and oan make twenty-three miles an hour. Mr. Vanderbilt is going to use her running from Newport to Wickford. The auto boat building for Mr. Vanderbilt, which is to be named Vantage, is nearly finished. She is 70 feet long and will make twenty miles an hour.

YEAR LONG CAPTIVITY AND A LUCKY RESCUE WITH A NOOSE.

letim Couldn't Be Hauled Up in a Basket for She Wouldn't Get in One, and She Dodged Bullets and Turned Up Her time ago, and the tenants didn't think that she would ever get out of the hole alive. That was a year ago last September, the neighbors all declare, and they can fix the exact date, Sept. 9, by the birth of little Adolph Poppenlauer.

of her for three days.

Then the tenants began to investigate a

A council was called to devise ways and means of rescue, but they all failed. A piece of liver was lowered down in a grape basket on the supposition that the cat would get into the basket and be hoisted back to daylight. She took the basket as a dumbwaiter for meals, and not as a passenger elevator, and ate the liver without getting into the basket.

From that day until vesterday the cat senger elevator, and ate the liver without getting into the basket.

From that day until yesterday; the cat never missed a meal. All the families in the two houses took turns, a week at a time, at throwing food and lowering milk to the prisoner. Attempts at rescue were made frequently, and to keep up the interest, the neighbors made up a purse of $1, which was offered as a prize to the boy or girl who should get the cat out.

The landlord was invited to remove a few bricks from his side wall to make an exit, but he declined. Instead, he reported the matter to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and two agents of the society went to the roof to see what they could do. They couldn't get the cat, so decided that the most humane thing to do was to kill her. They lowered some poisoned liver, but the cat merely sniffed it and walked away without taking so much as a nibble.

as a nibble.

Then one of the agents tried to do the trick with a bullet. But he couldn't shoot straight down the shaft, so the cat was doomed to more months of solitary confinement, and walking back and forth in the light, always dim, fifty feet below the Yesterday Mrs. Rose Kolb, who lives on the top floor at 163, made one more attempt at rescue and succeeded. She made a running noose in the end of a clothesline and lowered that. She swung the line back and forth till the cat began to play with it, just as she had done dozens of times before without getting caught in the loop. But this time the cat tried to jump through the noose, and Mrs. Kolb happened to pull it at just the right second. Then she pulled the cat up.

The prisoner seemed in the best of health. Her fur was smooth and sleek, and she was throroughly tame. She began to pur and

Her fur was smooth and sleek, and she was throroughly tame. She began to purr and rub her nose against her rescurer's hand before Mrs. Kolb could get the nose off. The only thing to indicate that her kittenhood was not like that of other cats is her aversion to strong light. She spent most of the time yesterday in a dark corner under the bed, and had to be dragged out every time an admiring neighbor dropped in to hear the news of the rescue, and pet the cat.

ATLANTIC CITY HORSE SHOW. Mrs. John Gerken Captures Many Blue Ribbons.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 22.-The steady fall of rain kept society away from the horse show to-day. Fortunately no drops de-scended while the ladies' saddle horses were shown, but the oval ring was very muddy. This class was interesting. There were eight entries and but four women to handle them. The blue was awarded to Mrs. John Gerken's La Contributor, ridden by herself. The red went to All Ablaze, owner H. G. McElwaine and ridden by Miss Belle Beach. Mrs. Gerken also got the yellow jump, open to all hunters and jumpers. All the big cracks fared badly, Thistledown, Jack Frost, Socrates and Illicit being among the "also rans." The sloppy tanbark caused the bad showing. Gee Whiz, from the Vir-sumroy Farms, Berlin, N. J., won, with Mrs. A. E. Dietrich's Buck second, and St. Nicholas third.

Mrs. John Gerken's pair of harness horses Newsboy and Shopgirl, captured first honors and Favorite and Florizel, belonging to Mrs Burke Roche, Newport, were second best
The pony class was won by Mrs. Gerken't Doncaster Model, driven by her little seven Burke Roche, Newport, were second best.
The pony class was won by Mrs. Gerken's Donoster Model, driven by her little sevenyear-old son. The second prize, went to Duke of York of the Virsumroy Farms, Mrs. Gerken's Newsboy was selected as the best harness horse. Mrs. Roche's Lord Golden, formerly owned by Dr. Woodend, was second choice and Mignonette, exhibited by Charles T. Proctor, New York, was third.

In the special class for hunters and jumpers
Your Fellow, owned by Charles Pfizer, with Sydney Holloway up, was first; S. J. Holloway's Socrates, second, and Illicit of the Virsumroy Farms, ridden by G. Sumner of New York; third.

COBURG, July 22.—The fourth round of the of the seven games remaining unfinished schall.

In the other games Caro won from Brody and Swiderski lost to Suechting, while the Fleischmann-Berger, Bernstein-Marco, and Bardeleben-Wolf contests were drawn. Following are the scores of the competitors up to date: Bardeleben 8 1 John 1
Berger 214 13 Marco 214
Bernstein 8 1 Marco 22
Bernstein 8 1 Sonlechter 3
Caro 114 24 Suechting 114
Fielschmann 114 24 Wolf 22
Gottschall 14 24 Wolf 2

Schermerhorn street, Brooklyn, who was employed as a workman at 22 Cortlandt street, Manhattan, was killed there yesterday by falling down a shaft a distance of twelve stories. His body was taken to the Church street police station.

PRISONER OF THE AIRSHAFT.

Dainty Nose at Poison-She's a Cat.

A cat was rescued yesterday by being poisted from her deep and narrow prison with a noose at the end of a long rope. She (it is a tabby) fell down between the houses at 163 and 165 East Fourth street a long

The Poppenlauers lived on the top floor at 163 and owned the cat. On the day that Adolph was born the cat got into disgrace by jumping up three times on to the bed where the new baby was, after she had been told not to. She was sent up on the roof for punishment, and that was the last seen mysterious mewing, and discovered the cat away down in the bottom of the narrow slit between the two houses. She had had a drop of fifty feet to get there, and there was no way of escape.

A council was called to devise ways and enement roofs.

Yesterday Mrs. Rose Kolb, who lives on with Elsa.

There were surprises in the handloap

Many Drawn Games in German Chees Tournament.

masters' tournament of the German Chees Association was contested here to-day, two when time was called, viz., those between Misses and John and Schlechter and Gotts-schall.

Killed by Twelve Story Fall. Darwin Hickman, 26 years old, of 85

'McClure's i Cleveland

PUBLICATIONS.

The high tide mark in periodical literature." Besten

MCCLURE'S MAGAZINE

for August contains a charming new story of child life by author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy." It is illustrated with beautiful pictures in colors by Jessie Willcox Smith, America's foremost artist of child life.

Frances Hodgson Burnett

FICTION NUMBER

Henry Wallace Phillips: Another "Red Saunders" story. The was anything breezier or funnier than this awful hero." Sixteen humorous drawings by A. B. Frost.

Point Regulation." Charming love farce. Beautifully illustrated. James Hopper: "The Coming of the Maestra." A powerful romance by a new writer. Pictures

by Thomas Fogarty.

Mary R. S. Andrews: "A West

O. Henry: "A Tempered Winding Wall Street." Gay, laughable, witty and wise. The best story by this new humorist.

Alice Brown: "A Winter's Courtship." The highest type of the real wholesome American love. story. Illustrated.

"King Coal." An exciting story of a crow, a panther, and a baby. Eight pictures in colors by Reginald.

Lincoln Steffens

who wrote "The Shame of the Cities," has another article in the August McClure's on "The Enemies of the Republic." He calls it "Illinois: A Triumph of Public Opinion."

PICTURES IN COLORS

OUR GREETING TO PANAMA.

Minister Barrett Makes a Speech in Presenting His Credentials. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. PANAMA. July 22 .- John Barrett, the new American Minister, visited President Amador this morning and formally presented his credentials. He said he was authorized to express to the President the direct, personal concern President Roosevelt felt in the administrative success

the stability and welfare of the Republic of The Minister added that he came to Panama without prejudice in favor of or against any interests or persons and would endeavor, in a spirit of franknesss, to exeoute his mission. His desire was to be a friend of Panama, as well as the agent of friend of Panama, as well as the agent of the United States, were formally notified of their nominations to-day. had common interests and responsibilities to the world. The eyes of the world were upon Panama as on no other place. The geographical intimacy between Panama and the canal zone would develop numerous problems of jurisdiction and administration. Their inter-relationship was unprecedented. There was therefore particular reason why the officials of both countries should exercise mutual patience and reciprocal consideration, and the world, judging, should manifest patience, reserving final opinion until the experimental stage is passed. Mr. Barrett said he echoed the sincere feelings of the United States in congratulating President Amader upon the practical progress already achieved. As the newes member of the family of nations, the United States wished Panama the prosperity, stability and peace she deserved as the scene of the world's greatest undertaking.

Dr. Amador replied in suitable, cordial terms, reciprocating the sentiments expressed by Mr. Barrett, making happy allusions to the present pleasant relations between the two countries; and expressing hope for their continuance.

WANTS WARSHIPS AT TANGIER. French Minister Says Tribes Around Moor

ish Capital Are Threatening. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. PARIS, July 22.—The Eclair's correspondent in Tangier, Morocco, telegraphs that owing to the threatening attitude of the tribes around Tangier the French Minister has telegraphed to Paris requesting the urgent despatch of two cruisers thither. Russian Consular Officer Kills Himself. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

BOMBAY, July 22 .- M. Roudanovsky, first cretary of the Russian Consulate at Singapore, committed suicide to-day by shooting himself in the temple while travelling on a train between Madras and Calcutta.

EVERY HOUSEHOLD AND TRAVELLING TRUNK QUONT TO CONTAIN A BOTTLE OF ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT'

A Simple Remedy for Preventing and Curing by Natural Means

Temporary Congestion arising from Alcoholic Beverages, Errors in Diet, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Vomiting, Heartburn, Sourness of the Stomach, Constipation, Thirst, Skin Eruptions, Boils, Feverish Cold with High Temperature and Quick Pulse, Influenza, Throat Affections, and Fevers of all kinds.

All Functional Derangements of the Liver,

ENO'S 'FRUIT GALT' IS, In fact, MATURE'S OWN REMEDY, and an UNSURPASSED ONE. CAUTION.—See capsule morked EMO'S 'PRUIT SALT.' Without it you have a WORTHLESS 'IMITATION.

Spared only by J.C.EHO,Ltd., 'FRUIT SALT' WORKS, LOHDON, ENG.,by J. C. ENG'S Patent.

Wholesale of Mesers. E. FORGERA & Co., 26, 28, and 30, North William Street, New York. MRS. MAYBRICK SAILS TO-DAY. Coming to New York on the French Janes Champagne.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SVE PARIS, July 22 .- Mrs. Florence Maybrick, who was released from prison in England on Wednesday, is in Paris, accompanied by her mother, the Baroness de Roques. the is shopping in preparation for sailing for New York on the Champagne, from Havre, to-morrow.

PROHIBITION NOTIFICATIONS. Dr. Swallow and His Running Mate Formally Told of Their Nominations. INDIANAPOLIS, July 22 .- Dr. Silas C. Swallow of Harrisburg, Pa., and George W. Carroll of Texas, Prohibition candidates for President and Vice-President

A. G. Wolfenbarger of Lincoln, Neb., chairman of the national convention, delivered the notification address to Dr. Swallow and Homer L. Castle of Pittsburg notified Mr. Carroll. Responses were made by both candidates. Dr. Swallow expressed himself as highly pleased with the platform adopted by the national Prohibition convention.

TURBINE

A CLUETT COLLAR

QUARTER EACH, QUARTER SIZES

CLUETT, PEABODY & CO.

For the traveler's comfort. MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER No outfit complete without it.

DIED.

ADAMS.—At Watkins, N. Y., on July 21, 2804, of nephritis, Ernest Kempton Adams, son of Edward D. and Frances A. Adams, aged 30 programment at Kensico, where services will be held upon arrival of special train leaving Grand Central Station at 10:30 A. M. on Saturday, BREESE.-On July 20, Stephen Breese, aged 71 Funeral services at late residence, Morristown N. J., July 25, at 2:30 P. M.

GOETCHIUS.—At Great Neck, Long Island, July 20, 1904, in his 71st year, John Milton Goetchius, son of the late John E. and Julia S. Goetchius of Washingtonville, N. Y. Funeral services will be held at his late residence, 52 West 58th st. at 12 o'clock noon, Saturday July 23. Interment private. Kindly omit flowers. Newburg, N. Y., and Hartford, Conn., papers please copy. REED.-Suddenly, July 21st, 1904, William Henry Reed, in the 40th year of his age. Funeral services at his summer residence in Shrewsbury, N. J., on Saturday, July 23, at 11 o'clock. Train leaves New York, foot of Liberty st., at 9:40 A. M. Interment at Woodlawn. STEWART.-Died, at Slasconset, Mass., July 22,

1904, Brigadier-General Charles Seaforth Stew-art, son of the Rev. Charles Samuel Stewart, U. S. Navy, aged 81 years. Funeral at Cooperstown, N. Y., at convenience of THOMPSON.—On July 20, 1904, after a lingering in his 65th year. Funeral services at Princeton, N. J., on Saturday, July 23, on arrival of train leaving New York at 9:25 A. M.

CEMETERIES. Great Pinelawn Cemetery, 2,315 scres. Largest's metery in the world. 48 West 34th at., N. Y.

RELIGIOUS NOTICES. FIFTH AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH,

Rev. S. CAMPBELL MORGAN, D. I will conduct the services at 11 A. M. and 430 P. M. on July 24th.

Strangers are cordially invited.

Samuel Hopkins Adams: